Our Group

A LITTLE HISTORY...

Chocolate was brought to France in 1615 by Queen Anne of Austria, wife of King Louis XIII. At the time, chocolate was reserved exclusively for the elite. It wasn't until the 19th century that it spread to the masses.

In 1962, the chocolate company was bought by Georges Poirrier and became Cantalou. Finally in 1989, several years after its acquisition by the CÉMOI brand, the company became CÉMOI.

KEY NUMBERS

TRANSPARENCE

CACAO CÉMOI

BECAUSE IT TAKES GREAT COCOA TO MAKE GREAT CHOCOLATE

CEMOI commits to a sustainable cocoa through its programme TRANSPARENCE CACAO, which regroup 60.000 farmers and their families. This unique Programme is structured around four quality levels, pillars of Cemoi's Commitment and core of the TRANSPARENCE CACAO Programme.

FOOD QUALITY

A chocolate with a known history from origin.

AROMATIC QUALITY

A chocolate with subtle and rich aromas.

FARMER QUALITY OF LIFE

A chocolate that enable the farmer, to support his family and invest in his farm.

ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY

A chocolate wich contribute to environmental protection.

Truffles

ORIGIN TRUFFLES

NEW

It's hard to resist chocolate truffles at Christmas time! To tickle the tastebuds of lovers of fine food, CÉMOI is launching high-end truffles made from pure cocoa butter selected from only the best chocolate producing regions: Ecuador, the Ivory Coast and Sao Tomé.

This French chocolate maker, which stands apart owing to the control it maintains over the entire chocolate production process, has selected only the finest sources of cocoa to be used in its exceptional truffles.

CÉMOI offers three different varieties of truffle, all with unique characteristics - rich, yet delicate for those who love chocolate truffles and other specific types of chocolate.
